Food Shopper

by Cathy B. Hinton
Virginia Department of Agriculture

By saving fuel when preparing meals you can also save time and energy. Just think of the many ways you can save in food preparation by incorporating energy saving tips.

An organized food shopper prepares a shopping list and plans a routine shopping trip every week or two, depending on storage space. It's those return trips for "forgotten" items which waste fuel and time. Remember, organization does pay off in the end.

Now, let's go into the kitchen and see if energy is being wasted. When it's meal time one of the first places you go to is the refrigerator. Are you guilty of opening the door without knowing what you're looking for? That open door costs you money and energy. Don't feel bad, everyone is guilty of this habit one time or another. But, NOW is the time to reform and develop good habits. If you plan a weekly menu you will know what you're searching for in the refrigerator.

The planning of your menu should include some thought to means of conserving energy. A dinner of baked beans, hot dogs, hot rolls and a salad sounds delicious for a cold winter evening. Perhaps baked apples could also be included! This meal was planned so that all dished could be baked in the oven at the same time.

When preparing an oven meal try cooking frozen vegetables at the same time in a tightly covered casserole dish. Use an extra tablespoon of butter and water and ¼ teaspoon salt for each 10-ounce Mrs. Twyman Nash, Mr. Herman Guill and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gobble were dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nash Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nash were supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gobble Sunday night.

Dinner guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Nash and Dawn were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Howard and children, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Mann and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nash and and baby, Mr. and Mrs. George Nash and children and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Cu', and Donna Lacy.

Mrs. Clarence Jones is inthe hospital, we hope she will soon be well and back home.

Mrs. Maury Howard returned home Friday from the hospital.

To the staff of the Times-Virginian and friends and neighbors we wish a happy and prosperous new year.

Fashion

Colorful jackets are a must for college girls. Many of these are unlined and the young woman, who is clever in sewing, can run up several of these for the price of a ready made one.

Solid colors or plaids are good and can be worn with dresses or two piece garments.

Velveteen, wool or other fabrics are used for these jackets.

casseroles at the same time and freeze the extra for future use: divide meatloaf mixture into smaller portions so it will bake faster; thaw a roast before cooking so that it will take 2/3 less cooking time.

Join the energy savers, "not wasters," while preparing delicious and nutritious meals.

SPECIAL EDUCATION SERVICES IN COUNTY REVIEWED

before it is presented to the members of the School Board. The plan has been developed with the cooperation of the Department of Special Education Services of the State Department of Education. It will be presented for approval to the department prior to February 15. Members on the committee are: Mrs. Brenda Richardson, public health nurse; Dr. A. A. Fratrick, physician; Mrs. Mary McNeil, Appomattox Welfare Department; Mr. W. A. Jacobs, PTA County Council president; Mrs. Ruth Webb, School Board chairman; Mr. Daniel Davis, intermediate School principal; Mrs. Therese Naminek, mental health clinician; Mrs. Alice Matthews, school patron: Mrs. Judy Keaton, Special Education resource teacher; Mr. Lloyd Walton, Superintendent; and Mrs. Jean Hesson, General supervisor.

Exceptional children who require Special Education services are those who are mentally retarded, learning disabled, visually impaired, hearing impaired, emotionally disturbed, physically handicaped or possess a speech disorder. Services are provided for the mentally handicapped under two classifications: educable and trainable. Currently the county schools are conducting two classes for the educable. Students in grades one through six are being served. The recommended plans provided for adding a class for the educable at the junior high school and a class for the trainable for the 1974-75 session.

Federal funds were awarded to the county for the initiation of the two classed which are not mentioning. Projects were approved in 1972 for $11,926 and in 1973 for $14,000. These funds provide for purchase of all necessary materials and equipment and for salaries of personnel, including the part-time services of a psychologist. These grants have made it possible for the county to offer a program in which highly recommended teaching aids are an integral part of the instruction.
